About the Urban Wood Marketplace

The goal for the Marketplace is to connect urban wood harvests to end users of removed trees for upcycling and waste reduction. Information about logs are captured in the field, uploaded to the cloud, and displayed to potential end users. End users can peruse these logs and contact their owners to arrange for their disposition.

A collaborative effort:

The Urban Wood Marketplace has been developed by the following organizations:

FOREST PRODUCTS LABORATORY

Caring for the land and serving people

